Social Studies: Students will be studying ancient Greece by looking at the social structure, aspects of daily life, and government types. They will begin to look at Greece's influences on today's life.

Math: Students will continue to solve inequalities and reinforce skills learned in previous lessons as they prepare for their Topic 5 test on Friday. They will also continue to review fraction computation.

Language Arts: The students will finish watching the movie Harry Potter and The Sorcerer's Stone. The students will review and then apply the rules of grammar and writing mechanics to their own writing rough drafts and they revise their writing responses.

This year, instead of Hero Time, students will be required to read for 20 minutes a night. They will read out loud to someone, fill out a question about what they read, and get a signature of who they read to.
