Giant fire in The Amazon Rainforest?!

As flames burn through Brazil's rainforest, it's inhabitants are at risk of losing their homes. The fires pose a serious threat to the Amazon's delicate balance of ecosystems, putting pressure on already endangered species of animals.

Expect a significant loss in wildlife, says Roberto Troya, Vice President for Latin America and the Caribbean at the World Wildlife Fund (WWF). 40,000 plant species are in danger as well as our very own worlds lungs so to speak!

Artist's of Summit Academy!

This week I was able to interview Lena, a freshman.

Lena said, "The reason why I like art is that it's a way to express myself as cheesy as it sounds it's true." When Lena is upset, she does more abstract art, but when she is feeling happier, she likes to draw more animals. Her favorite thing to draw are people because she doesn't have to think about the features. She likes that people are different, and that gives her something new to draw every time she draws someone. Lena started drawing when she was only eight years old. Lena says, "I started drawing because I was a big fan of sonic, and just continued drawing him over and over again." She says that she would take up art in college, but does not know which college she wants to attend, yet! Here is some artwork Lena did herself!

A Missing Piece To Be Prepared

Written By: Celeena B. Scott

The school year starts on a "prepared" beginning...or WAS it?

The classrooms had clean, new workbooks, and the teachers told us what to do. The new students seemed quite remarkable. But something was missing ...where's the Planners!?

a sophomore, was anxious about the planners. She also said the planners are part of our grade in History Class.

Even the teachers were confused. Mrs. Danner/England, our History teacher, said, "they usually give all your planners. We need them for our class."

VMA's With the Missy Elliott & Alyson Stoner Reunion, brought to you by Vivian roper!*

"Man, I think the set of 'Gossip Folks' was a lot of fun" Alyson Stoner gushed about working with Missy Elliott exclusively to Us Weekly before their reunion at the 2019 MTV Video Music Awards on Monday, August 26. "It's wild. It's surreal. It's been 16 years since I've been on this carpet and I was performing with her last time," Stoner told Us. Elliott got emotional for a quick second when she took stage. Stoner appeared in several of Elliott's music videos in the early 2000s, including "Work It," "Gossip Folks" and "I'm Really Hot." The 48-year-old rapper, who was honored with the Video Vanguard Award during Monday's show, invited the former child actress to dance during her greatest hits medley. The 2019 MTV Video Music Awards was held on August 26, 2019, at the Prudential Center in Newark, being the first VMA ceremony to be held in New Jersey. Sebastian Maniscalco hosted the 36th annual ceremony.

In Sports news we have an article by: Donyae White

In the 2019-20 NBA season, a surprising trade happened when both Kyrie Irving and Kevin Durant got traded to the Brooklyn Nets. I don't know if it was surprising to you guys, but it sure shocked me only because I didn't expect Durant to go to the Nets. I mean we all knew he was leaving the Warriors, but I didn't expect him to go to the Nets along with Kyrie Irving. Kevin Durant has signed a four-year contract with the Brooklyn Nets, but he will most likely miss one year after rupturing his Achilles' tendon in The Finals.
